Who should attend

Adoptive parents and other permanent carers.

Trainer

Mary Corrigan works as an independent social worker, child care consultant, play therapist and trainer. She has specialised in working with children in transition for 35 years.

Mary also teaches carers, parents and social workers how to listen effectively to children so they can begin to understand what is happening to them.

The workshop aims to teach parents how to listen effectively to their children through play or via a third object, so they can communicate more easily.

This kind of listening helps to enhance children's self esteem by helping them answer questions like 'who am I?' and 'where do I belong?'
