

Equality at PAC-UK

PAC-UK is committed to providing services which are fair and equal for all. It has an ethnically and culturally diverse staff and believes in the unique value and right to respect of each individual.

PAC-UK is working in partnership with the eQuality Project to improve the support we offer to lesbian, gay, bisexual and transgender people. Our premises in Kentish Town, London are wheelchair accessible.

In 2014 PAC (founded 1986) and After Adoption Yorkshire (founded 1994) merged to form PAC-UK, the largest independent adoption support agency in the country.

PAC-UK's vision is that all people affected by adoption and other forms of permanence are supported and enabled to live their lives to the full.

Each year PAC-UK receives around 3,000 requests for help from people affected by adoption or other forms of permanent care, as well as the professionals who support them.

PAC-UK is for...

- adoptive families and other families with permanently placed children
- adoptive parents, prospective adoptive parents and other permanent carers
- adults adopted as children
- birth parents and relatives of adopted children, and of adults adopted as children
- professionals working with adoption and permanent care, including teachers and other education professionals
- others, including partners, who may feel our services would be of benefit to them

PAC-UK has particular expertise in working with minority ethnic children, families and adults and with transracially placed children and adults.

PAC-UK Staff

PAC-UK's counsellors and therapists are professionally qualified in counselling/ psychotherapy, psychology and/or social work and have a wide range of experience and training in all aspects of adoption and permanent placement.

Counselling staff are supported by external professional supervisors and an administrative team.

PAC-UK facilities

We organise a range of training events, seminars and support groups on-site. Please call us if you would like further information about hiring our facilities for your own events.
