

Podcast Launching 10 April 2020

Two Good Mums is a podcast about the shared adoption journey of a first mother, Laura, and an adoptive mother, Peggy.

Laura's children, 'CJ' and 'RJ', were removed from her care and adopted by Peggy and her husband. Over more than a decade, the two mums developed a friendship based on their shared goal of doing the best for their boys. Listen as they discuss how they met, began direct email contact and then face-to-face contact.

Follow Two Good Mums on social media to access the podcast and join the conversations on Facebook. The aim is to provide a forum for mothers (and fathers) to feel less isolated, a place where families on both sides of adoption get to know each other, better understand each other, and feel more positively about post-adoption contact.

OUR JOURNEY ADAPTING TO ADOPTION

FOLLOW US FOR UPDATES

 twitter.com/twogoodmums

 instagram.com/twogoodmums

 facebook.com/groups/twogoodmums

JOIN US AS WE DISCUSS HOW A FIRST MOTHER AND ADOPTIVE MOTHER CAME TOGETHER TO BREAK THE BOUNDARIES OF ADOPTION